

BABY SAFETY

Baby safety is super important for any Trailblazer to understand. Because babies can't look after themselves. That means, as they are part of our family, it is our responsibility to keep them safe whenever we are around them.

With your parents' permission and observation, spend time playing with the baby. Make sure you listen carefully and learn the things that could hurt the baby, so you can make sure you never do them.

Now, first thing to remember is that mommy and daddy know best. So don't do anything without being told to and making sure that it's okay. We know that what you are trying to do is sweet, but babies take a different kind of looking after. Some things that are normal for us can hurt a baby. So always check.

Never pick up the baby. That can be super dangerous and is something only grownups should do. The baby could get really hurt if they are dropped and carrying them wrong could hurt them really badly.

Babies explore the world differently than you do. You look and touch. They put everything in their mouth. So make sure that anything that they could get in their mouth is away from the baby and put away.

I know you are going to be a great big sibling, but we just need to make sure baby is safe.
