

TURNING OFF LIGHTS

We do love lights, don't we? Switch them on and we can totally see where we are going.

They make our home cozy and honestly, it would be tough to live without them. Now, I know you know how to turn lights on, but how good are you at turning them off?

So, why do we need to turn lights off? Simple really - lights cost money. It takes electricity to run those lights, and your family has to pay for that electricity.

It costs a lot of money to pay for it. You know what that tells me? The more you turn off the lights when they are not needed, and the more you turn off the TV when no one is watching it, and the more you keep the doors shut so the hot or cool air does not escape from the house, the more money there can be for the fun stuff.

Skill Trekkers are all about being responsible, and this is a big way you can help. Good luck, Skill Trekker, we're all counting on you.
